Design By Nature

Using Universal Forms and Principles in Design
Nature Shares Genius

“All children are born geniuses. 9,999 out of every 10,000 are swiftly, inadvertently, de-geniused by grown-ups.”

—Buckminster Fuller
An Interfaith Chapel for a Desert Crossroads, Alexander (Sandy) Macnab, c. 1961

ELEGANCE
Truth and Beauty
In emptiness, forms are born. When one becomes empty of the assumptions, inferences, and judgments he has acquired over the years, he comes close to his original nature and is capable of conceiving original ideas and reacting freshly.

The Star-Spiral in Plants
THE STAR-SPIRAL IN PLANTS
Design is the act of applying technique to an energetic form.
Nature is the classroom, the materials, and the teacher.
Simplicity is at the heart of complexity.
